

What is a Gaylord and a Pallet?

Merchandise is stacked and shrink-wrapped on a pallet in order to allow a forklift to quickly move merchandise onto or off of trailers and around the warehouse. A pallet or skid is usually made of wood or plastic. A pallet of general merchandise (customer returns) from us will typically be between 6 and 7 feet tall.

A Gaylord is a big open box. These heavy duty corrugated boxes are designed for large shipments and consolidation of small packages into a single container. The box's heavy duty design allows for incredible stacking ability and bulge resistance. They can be strapped to pallets. Decreases risk of damage and loss in storage and transit. Typical dimensions are 48in. x 40in. x 36in.
